

Front Carry Face-In Step by Step Instruction

1. Wear the carrier and adjust the shoulder straps and the waist belt to a snug fit. Carrier should fit high on your chest. Hold the baby against your chest.

2. Gently pull baby's legs through the inner pouch leg holes.

3. Support the baby so the baby sits in the inner pouch.

4. Close the inner pouch buckle and pull the zipper up.

5. Close the outer pouch collar buckle. Adjust the inner pouch waist strap to fit snugly around the baby's waist.

6. Pull the outer pouch zipper up and adjust the collar strap to cradle the baby's head. The strap should be positioned securely just above the baby's neck.

7. Make sure the baby's neck is supported properly by the outer pouch collar without the support of your hands.

- Suitable for newborns up to 24 months.

- If the outer pouch seems too big for the baby, you may fold the collar area out and properly support the baby's neck.

- Once the baby is big enough (usually around 4 months) guide the baby's arms and legs respectively through the outer pouch openings.

- If necessary loosen the adult waist belt so that the outer pouch leg holes allow the baby's legs to come out in the correct "frog leg" position.

- From around 9 - 12 months, the outer pouch collar should be closed under the baby's arms.
